

Dear {{FirstName or 'friend'}}:

We're thrilled to invite you to join us as we honor one of our dedicated volunteers, Deb Robertson, with the Allyne Hammer Excellence in Advocacy Award on Thursday, May 2, at 4 p.m. ET. Deb, a Compassion & Choices storyteller, has a rare terminal cancer called neuroendocrine carcinoma. Her diagnosis compelled her to pass medical aid-in-dying legislation in her home state of Illinois, and she dedicates her time to advancing this critical and compassionate option.

Compassion & Choices is proud to have over 7,000 volunteers nationwide, people like you who make our progress possible. This Thursday at 4 p.m. ET, we are celebrating our volunteers with a first-of-its-kind virtual event! Volunteers will share what drives them to do this work and how to keep up the momentum in every state.

Event: End-of-Life Advocacy Changemakers: Why We Volunteer With Compassion & Choices!

Date/Time: Thursday, May 2, at 4 p.m. ET

Where: Virtual, from your phone or computer.

Deb's advocacy has garnered both local and national attention from the Chicago Sun-Times, and the Chicago Tribune and a nationally circulated Associated Press article. She also had a 30-year career developing housing programs for homeless LGBTQ+ youth in the Chicago area. We are excited to share Deb's story at this national webinar – and your story too. When you sign up, please share the name of another Compassion & Choices volunteer who makes a difference.

See you this Thursday!
